The background of the entire image is a nighttime photograph of a large, open marquee set up in a wooded area. The marquee is illuminated from within, casting a warm glow. The interior of the marquee shows tables and chairs, suggesting a formal dinner or event. The surrounding trees are silhouetted against the dark night sky, with some branches illuminated by the marquee's light. A large, semi-transparent white circle is overlaid on the left side of the image, containing the text 'Included in all packages' and a list of items.
